

What does home mean
to you?

Take it further:

THINK

What curiosity questions can you ask?

e.g. What do you think of when you hear the word home? What sorts of homes can you think of from around the world? Is a house always a home or can the word home mean other things?

FEEL

How might different people feel about this?

e.g. Which feelings remind you of home? When or where do you feel at home? How might it feel to not have a home?

CONNECT

What links can you start to make?

e.g. Is having somewhere to call home something that we all need? Why do some people have to leave the place they call home?

Activity ideas:

1. Close your eyes and think of the word home and all of the images, senses and thoughts that it conjures up for you. Now draw, paint or share these ideas on a page to create a visual representation of home.
2. Write down (or draw) all of the different types of home that you can think of in the world. Don't forget snails and lighthouses!
3. If you were to move into a brand new house, what would you need to make it feel like home? Write down your ideal 'home-necessities' of objects, people, ideas etc.
4. If you were to leave your home, what three things would you take with you to remind you of home? They can be objects, people, sights, sounds and scents or even memories!
